

Another Success Story

The following story, told by Charles Younger, is nothing dramatic. It is not about how feng shui is employed to create a super rich family. It is to testify what really feng shui can do - to bring happiness to people.

In 1990 I was diagnosed with the Post-polio Syndrome. I have had polio as a very young child and what I heard about the PPS was that one got polio again and then died. What actually happened was that I was tired, read exhausted most of the time. The business I owned failed because I didn't have the stamina to do the work that was necessary.

About the same time I attended an introductory lecture about Feng Shui. The instructor asked us to bring floor plans, which I did. She looked mine over and made a few suggestions which I implemented as much as possible. Six months or so later I was sitting in the living room, looking at the view and the thought crossed my mind that I liked my life. It struck me as a very odd thought because I certainly had a list of reasons why I shouldn't. I was near bankruptcy, had little in the way of energy and no prospects of improvement. And none of that mattered. For a brief moment I thought I had snapped and gone completely round the bend.

If I hadn't been so stubborn I might have realized the Feng Shui adjustments had played a part in my transformation. It actually took several years and a few books for me to make the connection. One book lead to another and another and I became incredibly confused. Then I discovered Joseph Yu's correspondence courses and devoured them like chocolate at Christmas. Master Yu's encouragement gave me the courage to start practicing. First I worked with my apartment, then on friends and family. I think they thought I was a little nuts but they started to see results as well. Each result bolstered my will to learn and study more and that lead me to class. In the classes and through the courses the fog of my confusion lifted and I became better and better at being able to read buildings and see the effects of the Flying Stars in peoples lives.

I don't want to sound like a convert to a new cult but I really believe that Feng Shui has produced a miracle in my life. I still have PPS, tire quickly and live modestly but now I have a life that is productive, satisfying and I believe worth living. I help people to adjust their homes and businesses so that they can also experience the contentment I enjoy.

My clients and students have reported some remarkable changes in their lives as well. Not all, to be sure, but enough to let me know that I'm working with principles that have a profound impact on our lives.

Joseph Yu B.Sc. 余若愚 was born during the second world war in a small village in South China. He spent his childhood as a country boy and did not receive any formal education until he came to Hong Kong at the age of eleven. A lot of people suggest to him that he should create a story of learning Astrology and Feng Shui in early childhood from a monk as do many a famous Feng Shui Master. He prefers to tell the truth.

Yu studied Mathematics and Physics in the University of Hong Kong in the early 1960's. He abhorred all kinds of superstition and vowed to destroy such absurd beliefs of ignorant people. He then frequented libraries, trying to find fault with Astrology and Feng Shui from ancient books. The deeper he went into the subject, the more excited he became about the rich legacy of ancient Chinese culture.

Whether or not to become a professional astrologer and geomancer or continue in the fields of mathematics and physics, became a constant dilemma. Astrology and Feng Shui have been viewed as superstition by their skeptics. Astrologers and Feng Shui masters have been linked with fraud for centuries.

Someone wrote in his book, "If more knowledgeable men provide true Astrology and Feng Shui services, the ignorant and fake 'professionals' will vanish." Sharing the same view, Yu decided to provide useful services and correspondence courses at an affordable price.

While Joseph Yu was a mathematics teacher after his graduation, he was lucky to have as his neighbor one old Feng Shui master. This old master was very kind to disclose a lot of secrets of the five arts to him even though he was not one of the old master's apprentices.

In one Chinese New Year party at the old master's home, the master said to his disciples, "This young man, though not officially under my care, has learned more than most of you because he has a logical mind and dares to argue with me on various issues."

The old master passed away a few months later. Joseph Yu did not feel comfortable in the company of the disciples of this good master. He is grateful, but circumstances make it impossible to express his gratitude towards the master who passed on to him a lot of invaluable knowledge.
